NEW YEAR MASQUERADE BIG SUCCESS

Many Characters — Gay Dancers and Gorgeous Costumes

The new year surely got a grand start in Wrangell. The masquerade ball given on New Year's eve by the Redmen's lodge was the biggest event that has taken place in Wrangell during the present winter season.

An unusually large number appeared masked. There were many well sustained characters, and some gorgeous costumes while others were comical, and still others almost daring in their originality.

Excellent music was furnished by Laurence Taylor, Fred Choquette and Toby Harthun, and Miss Ruth Lindman.

The following prizes were awarded:

Most Gorgeous Costume

Lady's prize—chafing dish—Mrs. C. J. Bevier.

Gentleman's prize—pair of military brushes—Joe Baronovich.

Most Original Costume

Lady's prize—pyralin ivory clock—Mrs. Davey, impersonating colored girl.

Gentlemen's prize—cigarette case—Wesley Burke, who was dressed in stripes as a convict.

Best Sustained Character

Lady's prize—pearl beads—Mrs. J. E. Worden, who represented a flower pot.

Gentleman's prize—safety razor outfit—J. L. Nevill, impersonating a clown.

Most Comical Character

Lady's prize—gold locket—Miss Florence Prescott, impersonating a hoosier girl on a journey.

Gentleman's prize—bill book—Miss Ruth Sylvester, impersonating a colored fisherman boy.

Prize Waltzers

Lady's first prize—ivory manicure set—Miss May Goodrich.

Lady's second prize—cut glass dish—Mrs. Arnt Sorset.

Gentleman's first prize—smoking tray—Weston Dalgity.

Gentleman's second prize—fountain pen—Samuel Cunningham.

There was a general unmasking as soon as prizes were awarded after which dancing was participated in by all, the gay whirl being kept up until after 2 a. m.

Excellent punch was served. F. E. Gingrass presided at the punch bowl and wore a smile that wouldn't come off, as he dispensed joy to thirsty souls.

The work of arranging for the masquerade was in charge of the following committee: Oscar Wickstrom, M. O. Johnson, and Charles Borch.

A Parent-Teachers' Association will be organized in Wrangell a week from tonight (Thursday) at the school house. The meeting is called for eight o'clock and every one interested in the welfare of the schools and in cooperation between teachers and parents is cordially invited to be present. Parent-Teachers' associations are being organized everywhere and Wrangell should not be behind in this respect.

Mrs. H. R. Chilberg and little daughter of Seattle have been visiting relatives in Wrangell this week. They will go south on the Princess Mary tonight. Mrs. Chilberg, before her marriage, was Miss Ann Sylvester of Wrangell.

Found—Purse containing money. Owner can recover by calling at the Sentinel office.

Three Juneau Persons Dead Result of Slide

JUNEAU—(Special to the Skntinel Today)—Bodies of Lourie Maki and Henry Yae-gar have been recovered from the slide. Seven injured persons are in the hospital. It is believed that all will recover. Damage estimated at $30,000.

JUNEAU, Alaska, Jan. 2—One man is known to be dead, several persons are missing, eleven injured and seven buildings wrecked entailing a property loss of approximately $75,000, as a result today of the worst landslide in the history of Juneau.

The dead: Andrew Wallin, Henry Jeager.

The injured persons who are in the hospital are Mrs. Peter Koski, Peter Koski, Andrew Wallin, Viano Kallian, Viano Fajanteri, John Neimi, Henry Neimi, John Larson and three men whose names are not known at the hospital.

Nine hundred feet of hillside, which was loosened by heavy rains and melting snow of the past few days and which was just below the entrance of the Alaska-Juneau Mining company's tunnel, tore its way down to Front street, jamming itself and piling up at the rear of the store buildings of Isadore Goldstein and James Russell.

The slide, as it swept along for a distance of 600 feet, uprooted trees, dislodged huge rocks and crumbled in pieces a miners' boarding house, six dwellings and several small cabins. The roar of the moving earth and the crunching of the timbers of the buildings in the path of the slide could be heard for miles. Two women pedestrians on Front street fainted from fright.

The Alaska and the Gastineau mining companies and the business houses of the city at once released their forces to take up the work of rescue, which was prosecuted by more than 200 men in a drenching rain and a terrific wind.

The first building struck by the slide was the miners' boarding house conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Koski. The 15 boarders, employed on the night shift of a mine, were asleep at the time. Several of them, in their sleeping clothes, jumped through windows as the house moved down the hill. Cries and moans of inmates of this building and of other buildings in the path of the slide was audible to persons on Front street.

Members of the rescue party feel certain there are no living persons in the wreckage. The missing persons were occupants of the destroyed cabins.

The heaviest property loser is Isadore Goldstein. His mercantile building, two stories, was badly damaged, if not ruined, and his stock of goods was made almost worthless by mud and water that came with the slide.

Sisters and Brothers Appreciative

The Sisters and Brothers Society report having taken in $98.90 at their exhibition of old-time Indian dances on New Year's night. Fifty dollars was realized from door receipts and $48.90 from the lunch. This money will be applied on hall improvements. The society are very grateful to the public for the generous support received.

"The Most Wonderful Hunting Grounds on Entire Continent"

Says Capt. Sid Barrington—Well Known Navigator of Northern Streams Gives a Boost to Wrangell and the Cassiar District.

(Railway and Marine News)

Captain Sid Barrington, head of the Barrington Transportation company, says that tourists, miners and sportsmen in search of new fields to explore should journey to Wrangell and investigate the scenic wonders, opportunities for sport and natural resources of the Stik-ine River district and Cassiar country.

"There are more moose, caribou, mountain sheep and goats, grizzly and black bear on the Stikine and Iskut Rivers than on any district in America," said Captain Barrington.
"Twenty-three parties of big game hunters went in this year and all of them arrived with their limit of game at Telegraph Creek when I left for Seattle. The hunters included Captain L. Palmer of New York, who had five grizzlies to his credit; F. S. Groves and party of Philadelphia business men, with seven grizzlies; Charles Arbutnot of St. Louis who bagged a monster grizzly measuring nine feet, six inches. To my mind the Stikine River district and the Cassiar country of Northern British Columbia are the most wonderful hunting grounds on the entire continent."

ACROSS CANADA WITH THE PRINCE

One of the most beautiful souvenirs that has come our way in a long time was received this week with the compliments of the Canadian Pacific. It is a 32-page booklet 8 1/2 x 11 inches entitled "Across Canada with the Prince."
Canada was the first overseas part of the British Empire to welcome His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. During his three months' journey he visited almost every part of the great Dominion and came in contact with practically every phase of Canadian life.

Never has there lived a member of any royal family who was more democratic than the present Prince of Wales. He seemed to feel perfectly at home at all times whether in the company of members of Parliament or the cowboys of Saskatoon. He was quite as anxious to meet as many Canadians as he could, as the Canadians were anxious to meet him. The many receptions given the Prince throughout Canada were most popular as well as most wonderful functions. Anybody and everybody went to them.
Homespun hobnobbed with silk;
boys in shirt sleeves, men in parti-colored sweaters, mothers carrying babies in arms, all grades, all classes, passed before their friend, the Prince, and greeted him with the affection which he so sincerely returned. In every town, whether large or small,
His Highness met companies of sturdy men who had fought overseas, and there were many happy reunions between the Prince and his old comrades of the Canadian troops who served with him at the front.

Some of the things the Prince saw, and a part of Canada's spontaneous welcome, are beautifully illustrated in the pages of the folder.

It was a truly marvelous train which the C. P. P. provided for the Prince's journey of nearly 9000 miles across Canada and back. It was an hotel de luxe, traveling on wheels. It had dining, bed and bath rooms for the Prince; it had even a dispensary for the medical man, and a dark room for its photographers. It was the last word in luxurious

The Country Church Is the Nation's Bulwark. Go to Church.

LARGE percentage of the big men of this big country come from small country towns. Most of the REAL BIG MEN never forget their boyhood days when they went to the SMALL COUNTRY CHURCH. The simple lessons that were taught there have GUIDED THEM THROUGH LIFE. Their lives have been clean. Clean living made for their success.

When the GO TO CHURCH campaign was launched these men took a commendable interest in it. By attending church they set a SPLENDID EXAMPLE to the careless and indifferent. When a real big man GOES TO CHURCH the act is MORE POWERFUL THAN A DOZEN SERMONS. Clear thinking people are quick to see that there is something REALLY WORTH WHILE AND SUBLIME in the church.

THE COUNTRY CHURCH LAID THE FOUNDATION FOR THE LATER SUCCESS IN LIFE. READ THE LIVES OF THE GREAT MEN OF THE COUNTRY. THEY TAKE PRIDE IN RECALLING THEIR EARLY RELIGIOUS TRAINING—THE FINE IDEAS THAT WERE INCULCATED WHEN THEY WERE YOUNG. SURELY THEY PUT TO SHAME SOME OF THE SCOFFERS AT RELIGION AMONG THE FLIPPANT YOUTHS OF THIS MATERIAL AGE. YOU CAN COUNT ON YOUR FINGERS THE NUMBER OF SUCCESSFUL MEN WHO DO NOT GO TO CHURCH.

The plea of some who have fallen away from the church is that they are TOO BUSY to attend church. Yet men whose time is WORTH $100 OR MORE AN HOUR do not begrudge an hour or more for God on the Sabbath.

No man is too busy to attend church. If he is successful he should GO TO CHURCH to thank God for his success. If he is struggling he should ask God's help.

GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY.

DRASTIC ORDERS RELATING TO ALASKA FISHING

SEATTLE—Special dispatches to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer from its Washington correspondent says that Secretary of Commerce Alexander has promulgated drastic orders relating to Alaska fishing. All fishing is prohibited in all salmon streams in Southeastern Alaska, east of Cape Spencer, together with their tributaries and lakes from which any of them may flow.

With the exception of the purse seines and drift gill nets, all fishing is prohibited within a radius of 500 yards of the mouths of the streams, regardless of their size. All fishing with drift gill net and purse seines may be carried on to points within 200 yards of the mouths of the streams, except the Chilkat and Chilkoot Rivers and Anan, Hetta, Sockeye and Naha Creeks. In these latter streams the 500 yard limit will have to be observed by all the fishermen.

Sheer Brutality.

"I don't think you can really care for me any longer," cried the young bride, as, dissolved in tears, she threw herself upon the couch.

"Why not?" asked the perplexed bridegroom. "Why do you say things like that? Didn't I kiss you before I left home this morning?"

"Ye-es, you did," admitted the disconsolate fair one, "but as you walked to the corner to catch your car you turned and waved goodby on-ly thr-ee ti-mes." — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Northern Eskimos.

The northern Eskimos have absolutely none of the conveniences of civilization. The weapons they use in the hunt are tipped with bone or, more usually, with native copper, which they work quite skillfully. Bows and arrows and sealing spears, with hide canoes, constitute the outfit. Vegetables are unknown in those latitudes, and they subsist wholly on flesh and fish.

Not Filling.

Lady of the House—You say you have not had anything to eat today?

Tramp—Lady, if yer will believe me, de only ting I've swallowed today is insult.—Boston Transcript.

Too Much For the Oyster.

A perfectly formed hard shell crab about the size of the end of a person's thumb was once found in an oyster shell. The crab had evidently been swallowed by the oyster, but presumably the crab proved too much for the oyster, as there was no oyster in the shell when it was opened.—London Mail.

On the Spot.

The late Richard Harding Davis was once congratulated at a dinner in New York on his war correspondence work.

"I pride myself most on my fiction," he said. "War correspondence is, after all, a good deal of a bluff."

"The first editor who sent me to Cuba as a war correspondent said: 'A war correspondent, Dick, must be ubiquitous. That means—'

"And he looked at me hard through his spectacles. 'That means,' he explained, 'that the war correspondent must always say he was on the spot, whether he was or not.'"

Wooden Headed.

In a village cricket match the local butcher was batting, when a ball bumped up and hit him on the head, from which the wicket keeper made a catch.

"How's that?" yelled the wicket keeper.

"Hout," said the umpire. "But it 'it me on the 'ead," protested the batsman.

"Hi don't know where it 'it you," responded the umpire. "Hi didn't see it, but hi knows the sound of wood, so hout you go!"

A Dread Ordeal.

The Rev. Mr. Inch of Dumbarton told how on one occasion in his old church in Dundee a brother minister had preached a rather long sermon, and he (Mr. Inch) had occasion a few minutes later to enter the pulpit to make an intimation, whereupon a "wee Macgregor," who was in the gallery with his mother and the rest of the family, took fright and exclaimed very loudly: "Come awa', maw. There's another man gaun tae begin!"—Glasgow Times.

Water Resources of Southeastern Alaska

Systematic investigation of the water resources of Alaska was begun by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, in 1906 and has been carried on in one or another part of the Territory to the present time. This investigation was undertaken to supply the need for definite information in regard to the quantity of water available for many uses, such as hydraulicking, dredging, and supplying power for mines, canneries, and sawmills.

The investigation of the water resources of Southeastern Alaska was begun by the Geological Survey in cooperation with the Forest Service in 1915 and was designed to determine both the locations of water-power sites and the possible water power available. Since then the Geological Survey has maintained a number of gaging stations in Southeastern Alaska throughout the year and has installed other stations in cooperation with individuals and corporations. The records obtained at these stations in 1918 are contained in a report entitled "Water-Power Investigations in Southeastern Alaska" (Bulletin 712-B), by Geo. H. Canfield, which has been recently issued by the Geological Survey and can be obtained free of charge from the Director of the Survey at Washington.

Attention Mr. Business Man and Mr. Fisherman

The Alaska Union Fisheries Inc., a strictly cooperative concern has been organized among the fishermen and working men of Southeastern Alaska, for the purpose of carrying on the fishing industry in all its branches in Alaska and the waters adjacent thereto which shall include the catching and acquiring and marketing of fish, the construction and operation of canneries, cold storage plants and mild-curing stations, and generally to engage in any business incidental to the catching, acquiring, preserving and marketing of fish and fish products. The amount of capital stock in this corporation is $500,000.00 divided into 5,000 shares of the par value of $100.00 each, and these may be paid for in cash or liberty bonds or labor at the actual value thereof. Liberty bonds are taken at par.

We are starting the construction of a cannery and cold storage plant in Port Conclusion about the 20th of March. This plant will be built entirely by Alaska labor and Alaska lumber.

It is the duty of every man and woman who has the interest of Alaska at heart to get in and help the fishermen and workers of Alaska to build and own their own industries.

It is up to all the business men in Alaska to get behind the fishermen in this movement to build and own their industries.

Remember, Mr. Business Man, that out of every $1.00 the fishermen of Alaska receive above the price that the people who at present own and control the Fishing Industry are willing to pay them for their fish or labor, at least $0.80 passes through your hands. In order to carry out our program this year we must raise approximately $40,000 more by the first of April. In order to be able to place our orders machinery and other supplies in time for this year's operations all subscriptions for stock must be in by April first. Therefore all stock subscribed for after April first will not draw any dividends this year. If you are not able to pay cash for one or more shares now we will let you pay for it in installments.

Any fisherman or working man can become a shareholder by going to work with us and helping us to construct our plant in Port Conclusion and then take part of his pay in stock. All the work of building is going to be done by the shareholders themselves thereby also making of this enterprise a true home industry.

For further information see our agent, John A. Peterson, in Wrangell, or write direct to Alaska Union Fisheries, Inc., Ketchikan, Alaska.
